From the Pastor

It is not very difficult to see trouble in the world around us. Whether we are a good, generous person or not, suffering and terrible disappointment come to us when we least expect it. We need to be loved, and even more, we need to be given the opportunity to love others. Yet, so often our intentions are misunderstood and those we love disappoint us or betray us. Since we cannot control nature, or politicians, or any other person, we often find ourselves feeling uncertain and anxious about the future. Where will we find the strength and confidence we need to go on in an uncertain world?

Jesus gave his three closest friends a glimpse of his full glory because they were about to witness some terrible things. Scripture experts and theologians grasp the significance of Moses as the Law-giver and Elijah as the messenger, following the great tradition of prophets, calling God's people back to the truth. But, did the three fishermen with Jesus grasp that Jesus fulfilled the ways used by God to prepare people for salvation. It's unlikely; however, the instant that the glory of Jesus burst forth into the world, they were given hope to go on in the face of the unbearable things that were to happen in their world.

There is a story about an old man who was considered to be a wise mystic. He said this about himself, "I was a revolutionary when I was young and all my prayers to God were: 'Lord, give me the energy to change the world.' As I approached middle-age and realized that my life was half-gone and without my changing a single soul, I changed my prayer to: 'Lord give me the grace to change all those who come into contact with me. Just my family and friends and I shall be satisfied.' Now that I am an old man and my days are numbered, I have begun to see how foolish I have been. My one prayer now is: 'Lord give me the grace to change myself'. If I had prayed for this right from the start, I would not have wasted my life."

We know that God is in control of all that happens in the world, and every event will be used by him to accomplish his will. Every person can be left to his gentle guidance, because he loves them completely and wishes what is best for them. It would be wonderful if we could have some little flash of the future to remind us that our pain is only passing or that a moment of disappointment in another does not change the value of our love given to them in their imperfection.

During this second week of Lent, our challenge is to remain focused on what is truly important – the goodness and love that we bring into the world. When we speak a word of anger, or hold our anger in check and choose to forgive, there is no flash revealing the harm done or the love made stronger. God alone knows that. As we say "No" to a temptation, or look for a special opportunity to do good for another, there is no momentary revelation of the reward awaiting us for our goodness. Our love for God is the reason we do these things. Our decision to be true to the sacrifices we took on for Lent is a sign of our desire to be closer to God during this season of penitence. God does not count up our prayers or the things we give up. He welcomes us as we take one step at a time, day by day, drawing ever closer to him.

The world is filled with troubles, and the people we love give us more than enough to pray about. Our challenge is to be clear about our role – we are to inspire and encourage others and make the world a better place through the goodness that we practice in our personal life. Our call is to turn our life over to God and trust that he will take care of the future for us all.

—Fr. Stephen W Bierschenk

De El Pastor

No es tan difícil ver problemas a alrededor del mundo. Aunque seamos buenos y generosos, o no lo seamos, el sufrimiento y las terribles decepciones siempre llegan cuando menos las esperamos. Necesitamos que nos amen y aún más necesitamos la oportunidad de amar a otros. Sin embargo, a menudo nuestras intenciones son malinterpretadas y aquellos que amamos nos decepcionan o nos traicionan. Como no podemos controlar la naturaleza, los políticos u otras personas, a menudo nos sentimos inciertos y ansiosos del futuro. ¿Donde encontraremos la fortaleza y la confianza que necesitamos para seguir en un mundo incierto?

Jesús le dio a tres de sus amigos cercanos un vistazo de lo que es su gloria porque estaban a punto de ser testigos de cosas terribles. Los expertos en la escritura y los teólogos comprenden el significado de Moisés como al que se le dio la Ley y a Elías como el mensajero, siguiendo la gran tradición de los profetas, que llaman al pueblo de Dios a regresar a la verdad. Pero, acaso los tres pescadores se dieron cuenta que Jesús satisfacía la manera que Dios preparaba las personas para salvarse. Es poco probable, sin embargo, el instante en que la gloria de Jesús estalló en el mundo, les lleno esperanza para seguir adelante ante lo insoportable que sucedería en su mundo.

Hay una historia de un hombre mayor de edad que era considerado un sabio místico. Él decía esto de el mismo, "cuando era joven era un revolucionario y todas mis oraciones a Dios eran así: 'Señor, dame la energía de cambiar el mundo.' Cuando tenía más edad me di cuenta que mitad de mi vida ya se había ido sin cambiar una sola alma, cambie mi oración a: 'Señor, dame la gracia para cambiar aquellos que encuentro. Solo mi familia y mis amigos y estaré satisfecho.' Ahora que soy un hombre viejo y que mis días están contados, he comenzado a ver lo tonto que he sido. Hoy mi oración es: 'Señor, dame la gracia para cambiar mi vida'. Si hubiera rezado esto desde el inicio no hubiera desperdiciado mi vida."

Sabemos que Dios controla todas las cosas del mundo y cada evento lo usara para hacer su voluntad. Cada persona puede abandonarse a su tierno cuidado porque los ama completamente y desea lo mejor para ellos. Seria maravilloso si pudiéramos ver un poquito al futuro y recordáramos que nuestro dolor solo es pasajero o que aquel momento de desilusión de otros no cambia el valor del amor que les brindamos aun con sus defectos.

Durante esta segunda semana de Cuaresma nuestro reto es mantenernos enfocados en lo que realmente importa- lo bueno y el amor que traemos a este mundo. Cuando decimos una palabra de ira, o controlamos nuestro enojo y decidimos perdonar, no hay señal que revele el daño que hemos hecho y el amor se hace más fuerte. Solo Dios sabe eso. Cuando decimos no a una tentación, o buscamos una mejor oportunidad para hacer algo bueno por el otro, no hay recompensas monetarias que nos dan por nuestra generosidad. El amor a Dios es el motivo por el cual hacemos estas cosas. Nuestra decisión de ser fieles a los sacrificios que hicimos durante esta Cuaresma es una señal de nuestro deseo de estar cerca de Dios durante esta temporada de penitencia. Dios no cuenta nuestras oraciones o las cosas que dejamos. Él nos recibe en cada paso que damos, día a día, acercándonos más a Él.

El mundo está lleno de problemas, y la gente que amamos nos da más que suficiente para rezar. Nuestro reto es ser claros en nuestro rol, debemos inspirar, motivar a otros y hacer de este mundo un mejor lugar a través de la bondad que practicamos en nuestra vida personal. Nuestro llamado es dar nuestra vida a Dios y confiar que Él se encargara del futuro para todos nosotros.
